Former Baltimore Mayor Refuses to Enter Against Senator Smith.

PROFFERS OF SUPPORT FAIL TO ATTRACT HIM

Incumbent Seems Likely to Get Democratic Nomination in Maryland Without Opposition.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 30,-Thomas Gordon Hayes, former mayor of Balti-United States senatorship, and those who the field now admit that they have given Senator Smith. For the past three weeks every influence had been brought to bear to induce Hayes to be a candidate, and men prominent in every walk of life had their influence on the former mayor. Some went to Hayes and tried to persuade him to enter the lists, while others refused

The funeral of Mrs. Ella Kesselring, who was almost instantly killed here the Mayor Seeks De Fleetien. didate for the democratic nomination for a United States senator from Maryland.

Efforts Continue to End.

The effort to induce Hayes to get into the fight was kept up to within two hours of the time the former mayor issued his statement. At that time there was going on in the city hall a conference in which Mayor Preston, City Solicitor Field and a prominent county leader took part. Thes three men were in a position to offer Hayes the support of at least the Mahon wing in the city and that of a certain faction in the counties. The conference and the offer, however, falled to impress Hayes and the statement was issued. It is said that the conference took up the question of bringing out another candidate to oppose Senator Smith, but what was decided upon could not be learned. The prevailing idea is that these men will have a hard time to get the forces they control behind a man of any strength and that unless a strong man can be found willing no steps will be taken.

It is now practically certain that the only opponent Smith will have in the primary will be Isaac Lobe Straus, former attorney general of Maryland. The friends of Smith assert that the senator will win in a walk against Straus and they further state that while Straus is engaging in a campaign of abuse, the Smith managers will not follow suit. It is their plan to conduct a dignified campaign for the senior senator, no matter to what ends the opposition may go. At no time have the friends of Smith feared any candidate that the opposition might put into the race, and assert that Smith can defeat any man in the state of Maryland in the coming primary.

The republican nomination will probably go to Col. Carrington, the former state progressive leader, who came back Hayes and the statement was issued. It is said that the conference took up the state progressive leader, who came back into the republican fold at the last state election. There has been some talk to the effect that W. Bladen Lowndes had senatorial aspirations, but his friends claim that he has no such plans under way at this time. Former Senator Jackson is still looking the situation over, and may decide to make the race. In that event Carrington will probably decide to keep out and leave Jackson the nomination unopposed in the primary.

tion unopposed in the primary To Be Empty Honor.

It is admitted on all sides that the re publican nomination will be an empty nonor, and there are those within the out and allow the nomination to go to Carrington as a sop to the former pro-gressives who are now back in the repub-lican party. They point to the fact that the republican senatorial nomination will have some chance of success in 1916, and they say that Jackson can afford to wait they say that Jackson can afford to wait two years in the interest of party har-mony. It is said that the republican leaders look for a wide spiit between two democratic factions in the state when Lee comes up for re-election, and they claim that this coming schism within the democratic party will result in the elec-tion of a republican United States sena-tor.

Heintzeman announced his candidacy this week and is at work already campaigning for the nomination. He is a power in south Baltimore, remaining in the council when all other republicans have been covered to the contract for a new public school building to be erected at McLean has been awarded by the contract for a new public school building to be erected at McLean has ered in a city democratic landside.
